Athens, June 29, 2024

The Athens MA in Ancient Philosophy, which started in the academic year 2023-24, is an intensive one-year graduate program offering in-depth knowledge of Ancient Philosophy and high-level research training in its various fields.

The Program promotes the study of Ancient Greek Philosophy in its entire historical and thematic range. It is the only Program in Greece (and among a few worldwide) that focuses solely on Ancient Philosophy as a subject of systematic study and research. The Athens MA is the result of a collaboration between four major Greek universities, which have joined forces to create a highly competitive Program:

- National and Kapodistrian University of Athens
- Aristotle University of Thessaloniki
- University of Patras
- University of Crete

Courses are taught in Athens by professors from Greek universities, as well as by visiting scholars from international institutions. Upon completion of the program, students will be able to conduct independent and collaborative research and will be well prepared to undertake doctoral studies. The program admits up to 20 students per academic year.

The Program's duration is a full academic year (12 months – 75 ECTS): two Semesters of courses are followed by a Summer Term, during which students will prepare and submit a master's thesis. The fees of the Program amount to 1800 €. Language of instruction is English. Knowledge of Ancient Greek and Latin is desirable but not required.

For the forthcoming academic year, we are delighted to announce the establishment of the Hypatia Scholarship and the Ioannis Loizides Award of Excellence. A new page on our website features some views about our Program from the current students.

Candidates may submit their applications until July 10th, 2024. For more information, including the application form and a list of required documents, visit <https://athensma.phs.uoa.gr>. See also our leaflet, the video presentation, and the Study Guide of the Program.
